

Zen Resort Bali : AYURVEDA

Ayurveda, the “science of life and the art of healing”, is the world’s most ancient holistic health philosophy and system that covers every aspect of wellbeing: health, beauty, food, spirit, sex and living in harmony with each other and with nature. For over 5000 years in India, Ayurveda has been the practical basis of treating the root causes of many health disorders and diseases, often giving a real cure rather than temporary relief. Life based on the principles of Ayurveda resist ill health, arrests premature aging and retains youthfulness.

The core objective of Ayurveda is to keep a healthy person healthy, not only physically but also mentally, morally and spiritually. Health begins with the fitness and the strength of the body, deepens to emotional stability, leading to intellectual clarity and wisdom, and through this to spirituality.

The philosophy of Ayurveda treats the body, mind, and soul as inter-related and in doing so harmonizes the biological, physical, and neurological systems. The understanding that each one of us is a unique individual is important in targeting Ayurveda treatments to address specific health conditions. Ayurvedic massage is a core component of the treatment. Massage opens the body’s energy paths; stimulates and enhances circulation of body fluids, activating the lymphatic system; regulates the digestive systems; strengthens muscles, bones, and blood vessels; improves skin and body tone, and revitalizes the body’s self healing mechanisms.

Ayurvedic massage treatments with oil, ghee, milk, steam etc remove the debris and toxins from the skin and cells become receptive to the absorption of medicated herbal paste treatments inducing healing mechanisms. It is important to repeatedly saturate the body’s receptive cells and ideally a two to three week program of ayurveda treatments annually brings lasting benefits.

Kerala, in southern India, is recognized as the home of modern ayurveda. Our Ayurveda and Yoga practitioners, formally qualified from the College of Ayurveda in Kerala and with many years of practical experience, together with our trained Balinese therapists will assess your Ayurvedic body type and lifestyle, and any ailments and imbalances. Based on this evaluation and your constitution, various Ayurvedic therapies and dietary regimes will be discussed and advised towards designing your own individual health and beauty plan.

Ayurveda is increasingly recognized as a highly beneficial system to complement modern medical practices to treat and cure the causes and symptoms of poor health, for example fatigue, sleeplessness, anxiety, stress, obesity, early aging, many diseases and other physical and mental disorders that affect an increasing number of people due to the stresses and pressures of “modern” lifestyles.

2. MAJOR BENEFITS OF AYURVEDIC TREATMENTS

1. Jarahar (Anti aging): Daily massage to the spine soles of the feet and head, with almond oil increases virility and semen. The human body made up seven components:, namely, Rasa – Hormones, fluids and lymph, Rakta – Blood, Mamsa – Flesh, Medha – Tendon of nerves, Asthi – Bones, teeth, and nails, Majja – Marrow, and Shukra – Semen or ovum. The massaging of all these seven components is effective for body, mind and soul balancing and important for anti ageing, vitality and maintaining good health.
2. Shramahar (Reduction of Fatigue). Fatigue is caused by physical and mental strain. In turn fatigue affects the muscles and causes tension. Rubbing, patting, and squeezing the muscles gently removes fatigue.
3. Vatahar (Reduction of the Humor of Vata). Humour consists of four chief fluids in the body, namely, blood, phlegm, black bile, and yellow bile. These determine the physical and mental qualities of a person.
4. Darsanakar (Improves Eyesight). Massage improves eyesight and keeps blindness and other diseases of the eyes away. Massage of the feet, especially under the big toe, spine, neck and head will eliminate eye problems and improve vision.
5. Pushtikar (Body Strengtheners). Rubbing, pressing, kneading, and so on increase and improve the circulation of vital life fluids and strengthen the body on the whole.
6. Ayushkar (Longevity). With regular massage, one can increase the longevity of one's life.
7. Swapnakar (Sleep Induction). Ordinarily massage induces sleep but massage of the head and feet before going to bed can bring deep, peaceful sleep.
8. Twakdahritakar (Skin Strengtheners ). Massage makes the skin smooth, shining, and strong. Dryness is a sign of the vata element in the body being disturbed. Sometimes dryness is also caused due to anxieties and worries, though people in cold regions develop dry skin due to the chilly weather.
9. Klesha Sahatwa (Tolerance against Diseases) A certain resistance against diseases increases with massage because it stimulates the production of antibodies and strengthens the seven components of the body mentioned in Jarahar.
10. Abhihat Sahatwa (Tolerance against Injuries) A person who receives massage regularly recovers from injuries faster than a person who does not receive massage.
11. Kapha/ Vata Nirodhaka (Protection against Phlegm and Wind Ailments) Massage protects the person from all ailment caused by kapha and vata.
12. Mriga Varna Balaprada (Skin strengthener and healthy color enhancing) The color, complexion, texture, and strength of the skin improve with massage.

In this position the entire body except the head is exposed to the medicated herbal steam built up within the box compartment. BENEFITS: This ayurveda treatment is recommended for all types of body pains and aches. It opens the pores and flushes toxins and impurities and cleanses the whole body system. Excellent to improve the blood circulation, fat removal and weight loss.

SNANA (Therapeutic herbal bath, ½ Hour): Snana is an ayurvedic bathing treatment. A daily bath after an abhyangam or self administered body oil massage is prescribed as part of the dinacharya ( daily routine ) in ayurvedic texts. The bath is filled with warm water that has been previously boiled with various roots, tree barks, and herb leaves selected individually for each person's prakruti (constitution) and any specific ailments. Cleaning agents like green gram powder are applied all over the body and an herbal shampoo for the hair. BENEFITS: A highly cleansing and toning treatment that removes toxins of the body through sweating, reduces body pains, and acts as an energizer, and enhances complexion and feeling of health and well-being.

SUNDARARYA VARDDHINI (Ayurveda Facial, 1 Hour, 2 Therapists): This Ayurvedic treatment regime helps firming and shaping up the facial features and improves skin complexion. Herbal face packs, herbal cream and herbal oil massage are gently massaged all over the face, head and neck. BENEFITS: This ayurvedic beauty therapy works well for pimples, black specks, wrinkles, sagging of skin, loss of eyelashes, etc.

Zen Open chakra massage

Zen Open Chakra Balancing Massage integrates deep-tissue massage, foot reflexology and energy enhancing therapy, including utilization of essential oils, breathing exercises, aromatic steam towels, scalp massage etc. This massage over some 2 hours in a serene, spiritual and private environment focuses on energizing the seven chakras in the body towards balancing the mind, body and spirit in a holistic healing and wellness context. At the end of the chakra treatment, relaxing meditation enhancing peace and joy is practiced

Zen Massage Preparation and Process

- (1) Shower half an hour before chakra treatment, put on your Zen kimono and sit it in a chair in your room for 20 minutes in meditation with closed eyes and sitting opposite a blank wall
- (2) Five minutes before your scheduled massage time, slowly walk to Spa avoiding any eye contact or conversation with anyone on the way. At the Spa greet the therapist with Namaste hands, avoiding any eye contact and conversation.
- (3) Following a foot flower bath and Sanskrit prayers for your wellbeing, the therapist will begin the two- hour massage. During the massage let your emotions come out freely and without any inhibitions. Avoid any communication with the therapist throughout the massage schedule.
- (4) After the massage and prayers, the therapist will guide you to your room, again no speaking and no eye contact with anyone on the way to your room. The therapist will place you in a chair against a blank wall. Sit in this position with eyes closed for 20 to 30 minutes allowing free flow of your emotions and tears.
- (5) Take a shower and relax for 10 minutes before venturing out of your room. In due course the therapist will meet with you and explain the status of your chakras; which are open and which are still blocked. Based on this additional ayurveda treatment in combination with yoga and meditation will be advised towards opening the specific blocked chakra.

The Seven Chakras

Chakras control specific parts of the body, energizing particular organs and bringing harmony within the body; if any of the seven chakras are blocked then energy cannot flow freely. A "Closed" or "imbalanced" chakra is indicative of a health and well-being issue whereas an "open" or "balanced" chakra represents balanced health and wellbeing. Thus an open chakra, for example, indicates our wellness with high energy and feeling very positive whereas a blocked chakra indicates low energy and unable to concentrate.

CHAKRAS are the energy centers in our body. There are seven main chakras, located in a channel encompassing the spine and stretching from the tailbone to the crown of the head. This channel is called the sushumnanadi and the energy, namely Kundalini, flows back and forth from the first chakra at the sacrum up the spine and out the seventh chakra at the crown of the head.

Muladhara Chakra at the root of the spine at the sacrum is the foundation of the entire system. It relates to our basic needs and our sense of security and survival and is affected by stress and worry. Blocked root chakra makes us insecure, scared and anxious Swadhisthana Chakra just below the navel is the seat of nourishment and vitality enhancing pleasure of learning, exploring and experiencing. This chakra stands for sexuality feeling, well being and pressure. Blocked sacral chakra relates to feeling guilty, numb and lacking emotions.

Manipura Chakra located in the solar plexus above the navel is the center of our identity, confidence and drive of life and living. This chakra stands for confidence and power. When this chakra is blocked we feel insecure, frustrated and fearful of being rejected

Anahata is located in our heart center relates to love, compassion, sympathy, empathy, and relationships. Complicated relationships, tragedy and loneliness often block our heart chakra.

Visuddhi Chakra is, located in the neck behind the throat, is the center of expression, creativity and communication. Blocked throat chakra is usually with problems of self-expression, deception & manipulative communication.

Ajna Chakra, the third eye chakra found between the eyebrows is the center of imagination, intuition and perception. Blocked third eye chakra is usually related to poor concentration, remembering things, suffering from nightmares and lack of clarity.

Sahasrara Chakra located at the crown of the head relates to wisdom, spirituality and enlightenment. Blocked crown chakra relates to indecisiveness, meaningless existence and depression
